DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1,2,5,6,15-17,21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brown et al. (6071305). Brown et al. show (Fig. 17) a stent 111 having a plurality of hollow core sections 114 extending from one end to the other helically and containing a therapeutic agent 123 in a polymer. Brown discloses that bioabsorbable polymers (col. 8, lines 62-65, col. 9, line 1, col. 10, lines 19-21) are used as means for controlling release into the lumen of the patient. It can also be seen there is a multiplicity of pores 108 disposed circumferentially about the exterior surface of the stent and are in fluid communication with the core sections as seen that they intersect. Brown discloses forming the tubular stent with a plurality of core sections and then filling with a therapeutic agent, col. 5, lines 45-51, col. 12, lines 36-45. Brown also discloses the stent can be made of a shape memory material, col. 5, lines 40-44. Figs. 1,2 illustrate the stent can assume a coiled shape. Brown additionally discloses the stent device is to be implanted in a vessel, col. 7, lines 25-28.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 7,8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brown et al. '305 in view of Harry (2002/0038146). Brown is explained supra. Brown does disclose the pores can be any type of opening or shape, col. 6, lines 15-18. However, Brown fails to disclose the pores vary in size or shape with respect to one another. Harry teaches (Figs. 2,3) pores varying in size on the stent. Harry also teaches (Fig. 8) pores that vary in shape on the stent. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to vary the size or shape of the pores as taught by Harry with the stent of Brown to provide different amounts of therapeutic material released from the stent.

Claims 11,12,18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brown et al. '305 in view of Johnson (5972027). Brown is explained supra. However, Brown fails to disclose a stent configuration formed of a plurality of rings affixed together. Johnson teaches (Fig. 2) a stent 20 having a plurality of rings 22 affixed together via connector 24. It can also be seen the stent contains pores 26 on the stent for drugs. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the stent design as taught by Johnson with the stent of Brown to provide more flexibility to use in tortuous vessels.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1,15,23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
